Ayrshire & Arran Picture Perfect

Ayrshire has so much to see and do away from the fairways. Scotland's west coast is blessed with miles of majestic beaches, rolling countryside and national forest parks. The great outdoors is always within touching distance, yet the bright lights of the region's vibrant towns is never far away. It's a heady combination that makes Ayrshire a popular choice for golf and leisure breaks. The Coig is an exciting new tourism drive showcasing Ayrshire through five new dedicated travel routes - definitely worth taking a closer look. The Isle of Arran is just a short ferry trip away with great golf and whisky tasting on the island known as 'Scotland In Miniature'. If the walking boots are packed then why not climb the island's highest peak, Goatfell.

Things to See & Do:

- The Coig (Ayrshire Tourism Routes)
- Robert Burns Birthplace Museum
- Ayr Racecourse
- Cycling (Ayrshire Coast Cycleway, National Cycle Network)
- Island hopping (Arran, Cumbrae, Skye and more)
- Culzean Castle and Country Park
- Whisky tasting (Arran Distillery)
- Easy access to Loch Lomond
- Scottish Maritime Museum
- Eglinton Country Park
- Smugglers' Trail
- Beach Walks (Troon, Irvine, West Kilbride)
- Kelburn Castle and Estate
- Heads of Ayr Farm Park
- Dundonald Castle
- Ayrshire walks (River Ayr Walk, Ayr Coastal Path and more)
